Bruner-Ivory Handle Company has bought out the American Handle Company of Jonesboro and will move the entire plant to Hope, it was made known today by Guy E. Basye, general manager.

The Jonesboro plant had been in business since 1900 and made hickory handles only, shipping throughout the United States and did some export business. However, the plant volume was much smaller than the local plant.

The amount of money involved in the transaction was not disclosed.

In making the announcement Mr. Basye said, "Inasmuch as we expect to discontinue that plant and move the machinery, equipment and stock to Hope it will, no doubt, increase our volume here, and result in some increased employment."

Bruner-Ivory is one of the largest, if not the largest, handle manufacturers in the nation at the present time.

Veto Decision on Farm Bill Faces Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—Expected congressional approval of a bill to cancel pending administration cuts in farm price supports confronts President Eisenhower with a likely election-year veto decision.

The measure runs against the grain of the President's philosophy on farm problems. But its Democratic supporters have labeled it an anti-recession bill designed to keep farmers from losing a half billion dollars this year in government support payments.

Coast Guard Rescues 11 Men at Sea

At sea, a Coast Guard cutter fought through heavy waves to rescue 11 men aboard a helpless fishing vessel. The craft, "Carol and Estelle," broke down Thursday about 140 miles east of Cape Cod.

The cutter, the Acushnet, headed out to sea after another cutter, the Gen. Greene, was forced to turn back from the rescue mission Thursday night when trailing lines from a smashed lifeboat wrapped around its propeller.

Units of the Atlantic Fleet stood by with full steam up in Narragansett Bay, ready to put out to sea if necessary to ride out the gale.

Agency Bill Is Wrecked, New Funds Voted

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Appropriations Committee today tore up President Eisenhower's budget for independent agencies and handed Congress a new one carrying a $627,577,400 higher price tag.

The committee refused to allot 200 million dollars the President requested. On the other hand, it voted to give him $27 million dollars he didn't request.

The unusual action was taken by the Democratic-controlled committee in approving for House floor action next week a $6,549,920,900 bill to finance more than a dozen so-called independent federal agencies in the year starting next July 1.

The action was certain to set off a bitter floor fight.

Public Building Projects

The committee recommended extra treasury outlays of: —$589,000,000 for the federal employees' retirement fund to prevent the deficit from increasing. Although it could be termed a mere bookkeeping transaction, the effect would be to increase the federal spending budget by that amount. The President has been withholding the federal government's full contribution to the fund to make his spending budget look smaller. The committee turned thumbs down on that approach this year.

—$177,255,000 to finance construction of 66 public buildings projects. The administration wanted instead to acquire the buildings under lease-purchase contracts. Under this controversial system the buildings are constructed by private enterprise and the government buys them under the installment plan through so-called long-range "rental payments." The committee said this system is "much more expensive and cumbersome" than direct government construction.

The committee said the latter provision as well as other budget increases it recommended were aimed at "fighting the depression." It noted that under the lease-purchase plan which Congress refused to renew last year only one building was built in more than three years.

Moreover, it said, lease-purchase construction costs the taxpayer over the long-run $1.64 for each $1 worth of buildings.

Money for VA Hospitals — The committee also: —Rejected a request for $3,975,000 for construction of a U.S. prison building in New York City. —Denied $70,000,000 for stockpiling strategic and critical materials, saying that there already was more than seven billion dollars worth on hand.

—Allotted $4,932,210,000 to the Veterans Administration, instead of the requested $4,987,552,000. The committee recommended an additional $6,350,000 for inpatient care and $10,000,000 for construction of VA hospitals but more than offset these budget increases by reductions in funds requested for

Melon Seed Treatment Deadline Near

Tuesday, March 25, is the final date for delivering watermelon and other cucurbit crop seeds for special treatment for aid in least spot disease control to Jewel Burke Store in Newland township or to the County Extension Service office at Adams today.

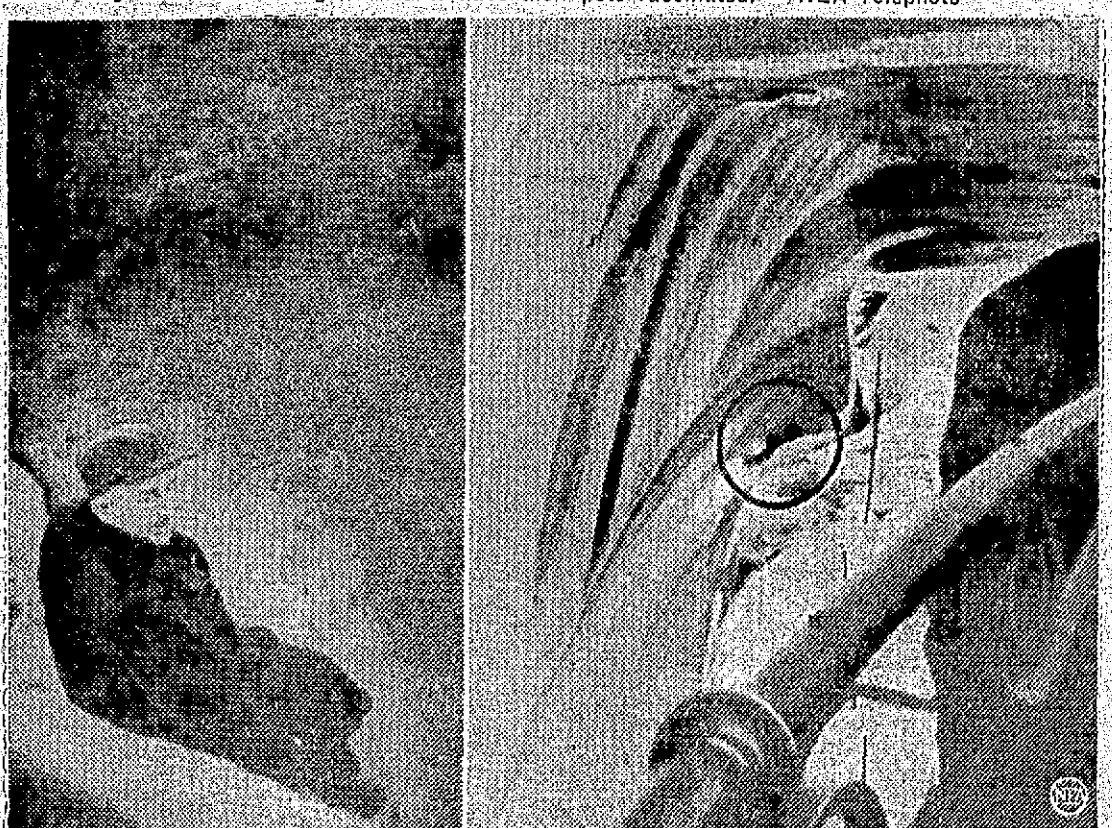

Each individual watermelon type crop has a much better chance to be protected if all of the similar plantings of an area are produced from Mercuric chloride treated seed. There is no cost for this treatment to growers because of the cooperation of Cecil Riddle, assistant director in charge of the Southwestern Experiment Station. Growers having questions should contact County Agent Adams at once.

Temper Flare in Indiana Metal Strike

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (UP) — Temper flared and blast furnaces cooled today at the Indiana Harbor Works of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. where 10,000 steelworkers went on strike in support of a suspended shop steward.

The dispute which triggered the walkout, called "an unauthorized work stoppage by the company," arose in the plant's electrical department.

The steward, a member of Local 1011, United Steelworkers, had argued with a foreman Thursday over the reclassification of an employee.

Lester Thornton, the union's director of sub-district two, said the argument waxed hot, and the steward was suspended. About 50 workers of the 4,000-man day shift followed him as he left the plant.

When the next shift of 9,000 steelworkers saw picket lines at 4 p.m. Thursday, they refused to enter the plant. The 5,000-man graveyard shift also stopped at the picket lines.

All Around Town

Bruner-Ivory Handle Company, one of Hope's leading industrial plants, has purchased the American Handle Co. of Jonesboro and will move it to this city. This means the local plant will be enlarged and some increase in employment will eventually result.

Hope's largest industry is growing which is good for the plant and for our city. Other cities in our area are growing industrially. Prescott is raising money to get a men's underwear plant that may eventually employ 200 or more and Nashville is raising money for a poultry processing plant that perhaps will employ 200 or so. Hope's newest plant is Wire Products Corp. which is setting up at the present time and may get into production by mid-April. And Corn Belt Hatcher is growing amazingly fast and future expansion is certain to be beyond all expectations. And this city has already raised nearly $200,000 of a $250,000 industrial fund goal to expand existing industries. It has been required and to secure new industry. It's a fine line to help an industry get started in your town or area. Show over the point is that Bruner-Ivory, Corn Belt, Wire Products

Food Prices Send Cost of Living to a Record; Senate Okays Farm Bill

Ike May Veto Bill to Freeze Farm Supports

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate today hurriedly passed a House-approved bill to cancel pending administration cuts in farm price supports and sent it to President Eisenhower for a likely election-year veto decision.

Senate approval was by a roll call vote of 48-32. The House vote Thursday was 210-172. Both fell short of the two-thirds majority that would be needed to override an expected presidential veto.

The bill would freeze farm price supports at present levels through this year and farm acreage allotments through next year.

Earlier, the Senate had approved, 30-43, an indefinite freeze on prices and acreage in a snap at Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and despite warnings of a presidential veto.

Could Hurt Campaign — The House late Thursday amended the freeze order and sent it back to the Senate for concurrence.

The President has described the freeze maneuver as an "180 degree turn in the wrong direction." Most observers expect the President to veto it.

But political experts believed a veto would hurt re-election campaigns of such Republican farm state lawmakers as Sen. Edward J. Thye (Minn.), who violently opposed cuts in dairy price supports scheduled by Benson to go into effect April 1—only 11 days away.

A Milimum of Debate — There was a minimum of Senate debate on the freeze measure as Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson quickly put through an order for a roll call veto on the House-approved version.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) urged the Senate to adopt the House version. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) restated his opposition to the freeze.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate today was expected to approve a House-passed bill to cancel scheduled cuts this year in price supports for milk, butter, wheat and seven other farm commodities.

Final congressional action on the measure could come late this week or sometime next week, presenting President Eisenhower with a neat election-year veto decision.

No Depression, Nixon Confident

CHICAGO (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned to Washington Thursday night, expressing confidence that the recession will not deepen into a depression.

The vice president told a lengthy press conference at the Chicago Press Club that the Eisenhower administration was optimistic about business recovery and that no tax cut was needed now to halt the recession.

"As far as the long haul is concerned," Nixon said, "I think a conviction should be expressed, and that is that the American people should make their plans with regard to what they purchase, on the assumption that this country is not going to have a depression."

However, Nixon added that an across-the-board tax cut must be kept "in our arsenal of economic weapons" for use if the slump continues.

Prescott to Get a New Garment Plant

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Plans were announced Thursday for the reorganization and move of a Houston, Tex., plant manufacturing men's underwear to Prescott.

The announcement was made by B. A. DeLamar, president of the Prescott Chamber of Commerce, and John A. Riddisill, executive vice president of the American Enterprise Corporation of Little Rock.

The plant will be reorganized as the Masterfit Manufacturing Corporation of Arkansas. The move is expected sometime in May, and the plant will work more than 125 persons, most of them women, by the end of the year.

Until its reorganization, it was the Bormaster Bros. Manufacturing Co., headed by Jerome Bormaster.

The announcement said the American Enterprise Corporation loaned the company $50,000, and Nevada county residents bought $50,000 in capital stock. It is the first industry brought to Arkansas by the American Enterprise Corporation, organized last year to supplement work of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

The plant will occupy a building with more than 17,000 square feet being remodeled and equipped by the Ozan Lumber Co. of Prescott.

Spring Gets to Arkansas on Schedule

By UNITED PRESS
Spring arrived on schedule at 9:00 p.m., Thursday, but Arkansas greeted it defiantly today with snowflurries in isolated spots.

Traces of snow were reported early today at Gilbert, Hot Springs and Little Rock.

Continued defiance was indicated in the extended forecast—Friday through next Wednesday. It called for temperatures to average one to five degrees below the normal maximum of 60 and the normal minimum of 44 degrees. A slow-rising trend was forecast through Saturday, but it was expected to get colder again about next Wednesday. Precipitation during the period will be light in showers about Tuesday or Wednesday.

Ward Likely to Run for Governor

PARAGOULD (UP)—Chancellor Lee Ward said today he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Arkansas this year if he is convinced he has "a reasonable chance" to win.

At the same time, he listed eight of what he considered the "most pressing" problems needing the attention of a governor "who is devoted to the task" of serving all the people of Arkansas.

Without mentioning Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Ward charged "open and notorious dominance" of the governor's office by a "certain utility."

"As governor, I could and would protect the office from domination or even the appearance of evil influence by any person, corporation or special interest group," he said in a prepared statement.

Public Demand — Ward said that in the past several weeks an increasing number of persons "from many parts of Arkansas" has suggested that he enter the race for governor.

"I admit to an ambition to serve Arkansas as governor, and the growing volume of encouragement now has me definitely interested," he said. "Should developments convince me that I have a reasonable chance to win this year, I will be a candidate."

Ward said he would announce his decision "one way or the other" in the next two weeks.

Ward said as governor he "could and would" remove federal troops from Arkansas and end the "cold war" between Arkansas and the federal government.

Other problems facing the state, Ward listed.

Prices Increase Despite Jump in Unemployment

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Record high food prices pushed living costs to a new all-time high in February, the Labor Department reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the consumer price index rose .2 of 1 per cent last month despite rising unemployment and falling industrial production.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague said he did not see much chance for a decline in living costs in the next few months. Consumer prices, he said, hinge largely on crop conditions across the country.

As prices rose and employment fell:

—President Eisenhower discussed the economic situation with his Cabinet at a meeting which lasted two hours and 10 minutes. There was no announcement afterward.

—The House Appropriations Committee voted $6,549,920,900 to finance more than a dozen agencies in the year, starting July 1. The committee, reflecting the recession mood of Congress, gave President Eisenhower $627,577,400 more than he asked. Last year at this time it was voting him less than he asked in most cases. In the new bill it is $177,255,000 in additional direct government construction of 66 public buildings. The committee said this would be simpler and less expensive than the current lease-purchase system.

The index last month stood at 122.5, per cent of average 1947-49 prices. It was 3.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

The index has reached new peaks in 10 of the last 18 months. It was changed in the other two.

Pay Raises for Some

Freezing weather in the south and a shortage of livestock at the market sent food prices up 4 of 1 per cent over January's record level. This was 4 1/2 per cent above a year earlier.

The rise in the index meant pay raises of 1 to 2 cents an hour for 100,000 workers in metals, aircraft, and local transit industries. About 30,000 workers at Hughes, Fairchild, and Martin aircraft companies will get the pay hike.

Buying power of the average factory worker's pay was down by 4 of 1 per cent in February. It was almost 5 per cent below that of a year earlier because of rising costs and shorter hours.

Take-home pay of factory workers—wages after taxes—remained virtually unchanged in February. A worker with three dependents averaged $73.71 a week. This is based on earnings of 13 million factory workers.

Drable Goods Lower

Clague said the price index bears only a "remote" relation to business conditions. He said the prices of food and most services like rent, haircuts, doctor bills, and utility bills respond sluggishly to a downturn in the general economy.

U. S. Refuses to Let Russians Land

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has turned down a Moscow request to let two Soviet jetliners land in the New York area with about 150 members of a Russian dance ensemble. It was learned today.

In a note, the State Department said it welcomes Soviet plans to bring the Molsey dance troupe to this country. But the department suggested the Russians "make arrangements for travel to the United States by some other means."

Ohio Schools Upset Kids of the NIT

NEW YORK (UP)—For now two schools located only 52 miles apart were set up. Then Dayton's "Bridges" and unseeded Xavier's upset kids — will meet for the third time this season to settle the National Invitation Tournament championship.

The all-Ohio finale, to be nationally televised Saturday afternoon was set up when Dayton trounced St. John's, 60-56, and Xavier upset third-seeded St. Bonaventure, 72-53, Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

The form sheet should be clear on the final round.

Dayton beat Xavier twice this year, 74-59 and 64-58. That should make the Flyers (25-3) solid choices to win the title on this their fifth appearance in the NIT final round.

But: There's that long record of Dayton frustration in this tournament. And there's the little fact that Xavier is in a real hot-shooting streak with a .524 shooting average against St. Bonaventure.

Dayton held only a 34-31 half-time edge over St. John's but Don Lane sparked a spirit that opened a 61-50 lead and then big Jack McCarthy stuffed in a series of short shots that turned the game into a runaway. When the game was hanging in the balance early in the second half, Lane hit three outside shots and two free throws and McCarthy added a basket in the drive that broke the contest. McCarthy took scoring honors with 25 points while Case added 23 and Lane 14. Al Seiden had 18 for St. John's.

Red-haired Hank Stein led Xavier to its easy victory by notching 27 points. The Musketeers had a seven-point lead at halftime, saw it dwindle to 33-29 in the opening minutes of the second half, but then pulled ahead to a 54-42 lead with five minutes and breezed home.

Long Against Seating of Lecompte

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. George S. Long (D-La.) said today he will ask the House to override a committee report which recommends the seating of Rep. Karl M. Lecompte (R-Iowa).

Long told the United Press he will urge the full House membership to reject the House Administration Committee's report in favor of Lecompte and to seat Democrat Steven V. Carter instead.

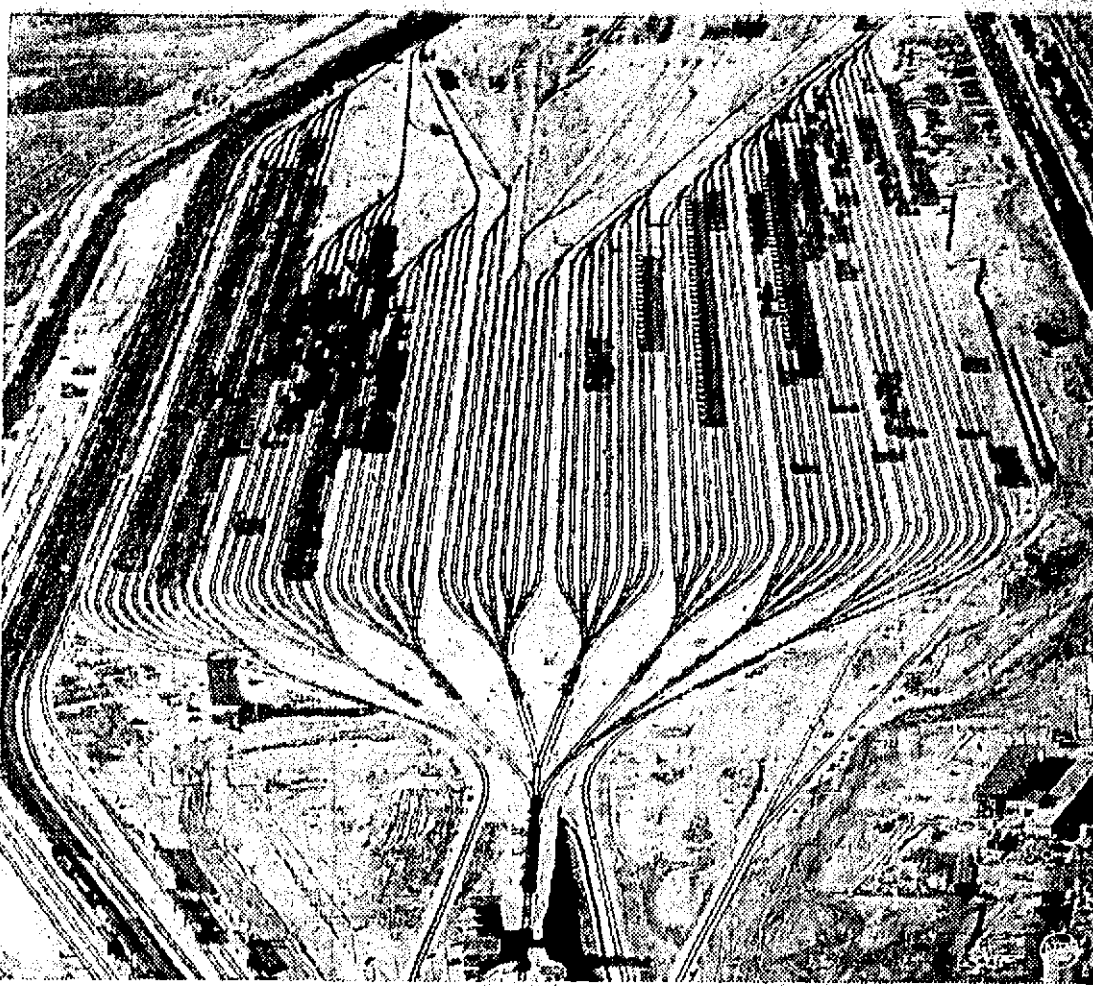

He declined to predict the outcome but said he expected "plenty" of support when the matter comes to a head on the House floor after the Easter recess next month.

The official canvass of the vote in the 4th Congressional District of Iowa in 1956 gave Lecompte 58,031 votes to 56,409 for Carter. Carter filed a petition with the House challenging the vote count. After an investigation the House Elections subcommittee voted 5-2 against Carter Tuesday. The parent House Administration Committee endorsed this recommendation by voice vote Wednesday. It is now up to the House to approve or reject the report.

Long offered substitute motions to the subcommittee and the full committee which would have seated Carter instead of Lecompte, now serving his 10th term in Congress. They were defeated.

Long said 450 pages of testimony showed there had been "conspiracy, fraud, violations of the mandatory provisions of election laws, gross irregularities and mistakes."

Long said that after the figures were adjusted to take into account votes illegally cast, the outcome of the election should have been pensions and benefits. Benefits under the veterans programs are fixed by law. Thus, the committee was merely scaling down the administration's estimate of what these programs would cost, rather than achieving any actual savings. Congress would have to make up any shortage later.

WHAT IN THE WORLD? — Air view records a surrealist impression of the New York Central's newly opened 14-million-dollar Robert R. Young Yard, named in memory of the railroad company's late president. Covering 675 acres and stretching for four miles just west of Elkhart, Ind., the electronically controlled freight yard, called the most modern in the world, is expected to pay for itself in three years by reducing the Central's operating expenses some $4,750,000 annually. It contains 90 miles of track with a total capacity of 7,873 cars and has such advanced features of electronic automation as a closed circuit television network, a magnetic memory which memorizes destination of each car, analog computers, electric eyes and radar. The magnetic memory, when called upon later, automatically routes each car onto the correct one of the 72 classification tracks (above) on which outbound trains are built.

The committee also made minor reductions in budget requests for the Federal Communications Commission, and the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Trade Commission and a number of other independent agencies.

Veto Decision

The House late Thursday passed the legislation 210-172 — far less than would the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto. It would freeze farm price supports this year and planting allotments next year at "not less" than 1957 levels.

Sensors for the bill were 106 Democrats and 44 Republicans.

problem. The President has publicly endorsed Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's farm policies. But the price freeze bill has been labeled by its Democratic backers as an anti-recession measure. They claim it will save the farmers a half billion dollars in price support payments.

The bill passed the House late Thursday by a vote of 210 to 172 — far from the two-thirds needed to override a presidential veto.

Adm. Felix B. Stump, U.S. Command-in-Chief in the Pacific, was slated to go before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to testify on the administration's request for $3,900,000,000 in foreign aid funds for this fiscal year.

Senator Questions Need

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he is not convinced the entire amount requested by the administration for foreign arms aid is necessary.

The Minnesota Democrat, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he feels economic and technical assistance is the real "battleground" with the Soviet, and more important than military assistance.

Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) meantime threw his weight behind efforts to cut out another phase of the foreign aid request.

Finkbeiner 'Not Mad' at Anybody

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Chris E. Finkbeiner, only announced candidate opposing Gov. Orval Faubus for the state's top executive post, said Wednesday night he is running because he wants to be governor, not because he is "mad" at Faubus.

Finkbeiner, a Little Rock businessman, told the Pulaski county Young Democrats Club he isn't mad at anyone. He said he is running for governor "because I want to be governor, that's all. I'm not mad at Governor Faubus."

He said he didn't want to discuss campaign issues until after April 30, deadline for filing in the July Democratic primary. But he said he has a "very definite program" on taxes, and charged people are not "getting true value for their taxes" now.

"Tax, tax, tax—it's got to end some time. It's damn foolishness," Finkbeiner said.

He indicated he is in favor of segregated schools, but said the chairman of the Young Democrats ruled out his discussing Central High School.

"I think we should do everything we can to try to further develop industry, but we need to spend just as much to do better what we already know how to do," Finkbeiner said. "We need to do all we can to help agriculture."

He said he thought putting a tax back on chicken feed would harm the poultry industry, and said if there is something restricting labor in Arkansas he didn't know what it was.

President, Faubus Are 'Courteous'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas received courteous treatment at the White House Wednesday despite his past conflicts with President Eisenhower over school integration in Little Rock.

The president and the governor met for the first time since their abortive conference in Newport, R. I., on the integration issue. Eisenhower is reported to have believed that Faubus doubled-crossed him after the Newport meeting.

Faubus said after a White House conference on the unemployment compensation problem; however, that the president shook hands and was courteous.

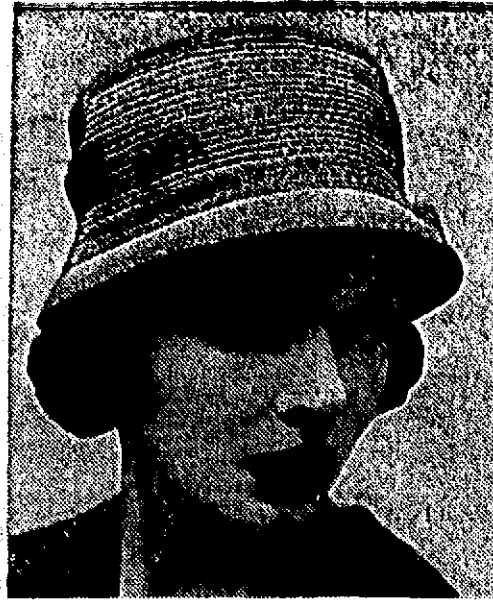

"The president is always a courteous gentleman," Faubus told reporters. "Little Rock didn't come up for discussion," he said.

San Marino Seeks Aid From U. S.

SAN MARINO (UP)—The new anti-Communist leadership of this postage-stamp republic looked to the United States and Italy today for aid in saving their five-month old regime from bankruptcy.

Foreign Secretary Federico Bigli told Italian newsmen Wednesday that what this country needs is a "Little Marshall Plan" to meet the deficit, expected as a result of promised pay raises and increased social security benefits.

The deficit presents a financial burden too great to be met by San Marino's traditional resources—tourist spending and the sale of stamps.

Hats take on new height this spring and are worn to reveal the hairline. We show here six hats from the nation's top designers, all of them designs that are pretty, flattering and feminine. The packable travel hat by Chanda (upper left) is two-tone milan straw in natural and burnt tones, unsized so that it is completely foldable. Upswept turban (upper center) of sheer yellow silk is printed with scarlet roses. This John Fredrick design has a cluster of scarlet silk roses at the crown. Another version of the upswept turban look

DOROTHY DIX

Home Should Be Freed From This Freeloader

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm happily married but with one problem—a free loading brother-in-law. My wife's parents are dead and when her brother finished college two years ago he moved in with us.

He hasn't done a lick of work since. His efforts to find work begin and end with promises to "get out tomorrow." Of course my wife feels sorry for him and doesn't want to put him out in the cold. I'm sure if she would tell him to get out and come back only for an occasional visit he'd do so. If I have to tell him (and my patience is reaching an end) there will be harsh words and trouble on his part, my wife will be sore and I don't think I can take it. Your advice will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Cliff: It's an awfully hard thing to face the fact that a dearly loved relation is just no good, and I can easily see your wife's reluctance to acknowledge the truth. However, if you can convince her that she is being her brother's crutch, a meal-ticket on whom he can always rely, and that she's doing him no good by her indulgence, she may get tough. If the freeloader is pushed out to earn his own food, he'll do it, never fear. A personable young man with a good education can get along without anyone's help.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a mother of three and would like to get a job doing typing and bookkeeping at home. Could you tell me how to get work of this type?

MRS. B. F. Dear Mrs. B. F. Contact stores or businesses in your area, tell them you're willing and able (for a consideration of course) to take over the pesky job of billing, accounting etc. Small outfits that can't afford office help should be tickled to death to have their office details handled at small cost. My leaflet "Turn Your Spare Time Into Cash" contains many other suggestions. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a man of 45 with a wife 38. We have two sons. My wife is a very pretty woman, good housekeeper, fine cook and makes her own clothes. In fact, I can find no fault whatsoever with her. But, I'm not content to sit at home. I like to go out and I date several other women. I know I shouldn't, but I do. I'm very attractive and women really go for me. What's wrong with me that I can't be satisfied with my remarkable wife? Is there such a thing as real love?

SANDY Dear Sandy: Is there such a thing as a real you? The only person you're fooling is yourself. One of these fine days that perfect wife of yours is going to get wise to herself and pull out. Then you will learn the true value of all these fly-by-nights.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a widow in my early 40's with one child. Several months ago I met a self-styled widower, whom I trusted. He came to see me three or four nights a week, and I was contentedly expecting a proposal. Then one night his wife appeared. She offered him a divorce but he said he wouldn't desert his three children. That was the first I knew of a wife or children. If I talked to the wife alone do you think she'd divorce him anyway?

DESPERATE Dear Desperate: You heard what the man said, money. You're all right for fun, but he doesn't want

Action Taken in Congress on Key Issues

BY UNITED PRESS

City mayors opposing the controversial bill to relax federal controls over producer prices for natural gas urged Speaker Sam Rayburn to call it up for a House vote. They predicted it would get a "resounding defeat" and this would "prod the Federal Power Commission into effective regulation of the industry."

Directors of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad declared a $1 dividend against $1.50 in previous quarters. The Pennsylvania Railroad's freight volume currently is lagging 23 per cent behind a year ago, according to Vice president David C. Bevin. He estimated the road would operate 12 million dollars in the red in the first quarter, against $5,300,000 in the black a year ago. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad reported a net loss of $890,000 in February, against net income of $1,200,000 a year ago.

Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Texas) charged that a firm which got a big U.S. contract to mine nickel in Cuba "held up the taxpayers." But officials of the General Services Administration, which made the award to Freeport Sulphur Co., disagreed and said it was "as good a contract as we could have gotten." The exchange took place during a hearing by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

If he rejects Bourguiba's compromise terms—presented Wednesday by the Anglo-American "good offices" team of Harold Beley and Robert Murphy—the negotiations would be expected to collapse.

Bourguiba asks France to accept Tunisian sovereignty over the Bizerte naval base and to withdraw from its five major airfields in Tunisia.

What Happened to Otto Miller?

Otto Miller spent his entire 13-year major league career as a catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers and was batmanery of Leon Cad-ore, whose death recently revived tales of Cadore's iron man stunt of pitching the longest game on record — 26 innings in 1920.
Miller never was a great star for he lacked the ability to hit for high average but he was heady and steady behind the plate and Cadore preferred him as his catcher. When he ended his playing career in 1922 Miller became a Whodger coach.

Whatever happened to Otto Miller? He was out of Mindon, Neb., originally but adopted Brooklyn for keeps. At 68 he runs a successful bar and restaurant in Brooklyn.

Montreal Highest Scoring Team

By UNITED PRESS

The 1957-58 Montreal Canadiens, despite a long series of injuries to their star players, emerged today as the highest scoring team in the history of the National Hockey League.

Powered by rookie Connie Broden, who joined the club this week after helping Canada win
the world amateur title at Oslo, the Canadiens scored three times in the final period Thursday night to beat the Toronto Maple Leafs, 7-4.

The seven goals gave him a total of 243 for the season, breaking the old single season team scoring mark of 230 set by the 1950-51 Detroit Red Wings. Broden scored two of the goals.

The loss left the Maple Leafs in a fifth-place tie with the Chicago Black Hawks, who defeated the Detroit Red Wings, 5-4 in another action.

"He's just talkin' to hear himself talk," Courtney declared.
The Yanks would win a hollow title earlier in the National League than they would in our league and he (Dressen) knows it.

"Those New York hitters like Mantle, Skowron, Berra and all them would knock out all the lights by the fourth inning. Imagine Mantle hittin' in a park like Cincinnati or Los Angeles?"

"If that there National League is so good like Dressen says, how come he could never beat the Yankees when he was managin' the Brooklyn? He don't say nothin' about that, does he? And he had a helluva team, too."

Courtney's remarks followed an earlier declaration by Dressen this spring that the Yankees have been fattening up against clubs like the Senators, Athletics and Orioles and could not do so over in the National League. Dressen added that the lower clubs in the National League would give the Yanks more trouble.

ORDINANCE NO. 762
AN ORDINANCE WHEREBY THE CITY OF HOPE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS AND THE SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY, A MISSOURI CORPORATION, AGREE THAT THE TELEPHONE COMPANY SHALL CONTINUE TO OPERATE ITS TELEPHONE SYSTEM AND ALL BUSINESS INCIDENTAL TO OR CONNECTED WITH THE CONDUCTING OF A TELEPHONE BUSINESS AND SYSTEM IN SAID CITY, AND ERECT AND MAINTAIN ITS PLANT CONSTRUCTION AND APPURTENANCES ALONG, ACROSS, ON, OVER, THROUGH, ABOVE AND UNDER ALL PUBLIC STREETS, AVENUES, ALLEYS, PUBLIC GROUNDS AND PLACES IN SAID CITY, THAT THE CITY SHALL RECEIVE AN ANNUAL PAYMENT FROM THE TELEPHONE COMPANY, AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES AND AGREEMENTS IN CONFLICT HEREWITH:

WHEREAS, the City desires to erect and improve upon the Telephone Company a tax which shall be in lieu of all other licenses, charges, fees or special taxes other than the usual general or special ad valorem taxes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE City Board of Directors of the City of Hope, State of Arkansas that:

SECTION 1. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, its successors and assigns (herein referred to as "Telephone Company") shall continue to operate its telephone system and all business incidental to or connected with the conducting of a telephone business and system in the City of Hope, State of Arkansas, (herein referred to as "City"). The plant construction and appurtenances used in or incident to the giving of telephone service and to the maintenance of telephone business and system by the Telephone Company in said City shall remain as now constructed, subject to such changes as may be considered necessary by the City in the exercise of its inherent powers and by the Telephone Company in the conduct of its business, and said Telephone Company shall continue to exercise its right to place, remove, construct and reconstruct, extend and maintain its said plant and appurtenances as the business and purpose for which it is or may be incorporated may from time to time require, along, across, on, over, through, above and under all the public streets, avenues, alleys, and the public grounds and places within the limits of said City as the same from time to time may be established.

SECTION 2. The Telephone Company shall pay to the City on or before April 15, 1958, for the period January 1, 1958, to December 31, 1958, inclusive, $2,161.00.

SECTION 3. The annual payment herein required shall be in lieu of all other licenses, charges, fees or impositions (other than the usual general or special ad valorem taxes) which may be imposed by the City under authority conferred by law. The Telephone Company shall have the privilege of crediting such sums with any unpaid balance due said Company for telephone services rendered or facilities furnished to said City.

SECTION 4. The Telephone Company on the request of any person shall remove or raise or lower its wires temporarily to permit the moving of houses or other structures. The expense of such temporary removal, raising or lowering of wires shall be paid by the party or parties requesting the same, and the Telephone Company may require such payment in advance. The Telephone Company shall be given not less than forty-eight hours advance notice to arrange for such temporary wire changes.

SECTION 5. Permission is hereby granted to the Telephone Company to trim trees upon and overhanging streets, alleys, sidewalks and public places of said City so as to prevent the branches of such trees from coming in contact with the wires and cables of the Telephone Company, all the said trimming to be done under the supervision and direction of any City official to whom said duties have been or may be delegated.

SECTION 6. Nothing in this Ordinance contained shall be construed to require or permit any electric light or power wire attachments by the City or for the City. If light or power attachments are desired by the City or for the City, then a separate non-contingent agreement shall be a prerequisite to such attachments.

SECTION 7. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as giving to the Telephone Company any exclusive privileges, nor shall it affect any prior or existing rights of the Telephone Company to maintain a telephone system within the City.

SECTION 8. All other ordinances and agreements and parts of ordinances and agreements in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 9. This Ordinance shall be considered as taking effect and being in force from and after the date of its passage and approval by the Mayor. The Ordinance shall continue in effect and be in full force until terminated by the City after giving sixty (60) days notice of intention to terminate.

SECTION 10. Because of the present absence of a levy by the City of such a tax on the Telephone Company, and the existence of such a tax on other utilities, it is necessary that this Ordinance be adopted to the end that each such utility bear its fair share of the tax burden, thereby preserving the public peace, health and safety, and an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.

by ED LACY

His voice was still weary and in the deadness of the empty store very clear. "Although I hold a gun on you, Winilo, this is not necessarily an unfriendly conversation. We shall—"

"Sure, you're doing me a big favor. I get knocked off in a store instead of in an alley like Owens got his!" My voice was back to normal.

"He smiled, a very tired smile. 'Your bravado has returned—fine. Only don't let it go to your head, you'll have need for some clear thinking. As for Owens—I didn't kill him. I wouldn't be here now except I suspected you realize the blunder I made in my office.'"

"Yeah?" I said, trying to stall for time, to think.

"Whether you are pretending innocence or not doesn't matter now. When you asked about the check, I'd thought all along that Wales had forged it, that's why I had to shoot him. A sad error, perhaps my undoing. I completely misjudged Wales. He was an honest and intelligent man."

"One work kept banging in my brain, clearing the cobwebs—forged. When had I sued a bank for a forged check at the time when Wales' wife had run up a big hospital bill. I said, 'You man you thought it was Wales forging a second check?'"

"He blinked, or something happened behind those foggy glasses. 'You are far smarter than I thought. So you know about that. Although Wales didn't forge the check—exactly. I'm going to tell you certain things not because I want to but because I sincerely don't wish to kill you.'"

"You touch me—blat!"

"Don't be stupid-brave, Winilo. That's all I ask of you. Listen to me and think like a man not like a kid. In the office I said something about live and let live. Perhaps you didn't pay any attention to it. Concentrate on it now. It's a remarkable philosophy, the basic rule of our world. Self preservation is said to be the first law of life, but we really protect ourselves by following the live-and-let-live rule. I'm not preaching to you, or talking about something abstract. I've found from bitter experience that—"

"I wasn't listening. Wales had had been so right; keep digging. I had never bothered to check Wren's signature on the Parkers' check. The room was small and he was on the doorway, less than three feet away. He'd be watching my right hand; by leaning forward I might be able to hook his fat belly with my left. The light was dim. If I fell forward to my right I might bolt him fast enough to fall out of the line of fire."

"Get down to facts. Why did you kill Wales?"

"He shook his head gently. 'Since I have the gun I will do the talking. I'm not trying to bully you. A gun calls me a brah,' I said."

"The big executive man with a gun calls me a brah," I said.

"The big executive man with a gun calls me a brah," I said.

"The big executive man with a gun calls me a brah," I said.

Engineer Should Know Streets Well

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—City engineer John L. Taylor should know the streets of Little Rock real well.

He and other employees of the public works department finished a block-by-block check of all the streets last week and are working on a report to give to the city manager board. The purpose of the survey was to determine just what streets need the most work.

It was the third time Taylor made a block-by-block check. He said one of the others was to learn the type of street surfaces in the different areas of the city and the third was to inspect drainage.

Latest Girdle for Ladies Has Padded Hips

BY HAZEL K. JOHNSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Clothing manufacturer Fred Mellinger's latest contribution to the female form is a girdle with padded hips to round out the sack dress.

The foam rubber apparatus is designed to give the slimmest hippest gal the contours of a Marilyn Monroe.

To date, Mellinger (owner-operator of Frederick's of Hollywood) has kept his attempts to fill in the female form well above the waistline.

Fortesaw Crisis
But when the chemist saw a more thorough than I imagined. Yes, the gun was hidden and Solly never talked, not even when facing the chair. You see, I wasn't around the plant much. I was still seeking that token of respectability and security—a job in my property. And Solly, who never had been inside a college demonstration, he didn't see any sense in hermitizing me. What good would it do? He passed his stomach rumbling. "Tell me, Winilo, what would you have done if you had found the gun?"

"Arrested you as an accessory to the crime. You would have had your day in court."

"What chance would I have had, what future, smeared and with a criminal record? Solly realized that. Live and let live. He let me live. It was his money, his and mine, that enabled me to start my factory. I've never forgotten him."

"I now, that monthly registered letter to his mother?"

Wren stared at me, his glasses like two dull headlights. "You're too smart. I certainly didn't make any mistake seeing you, Winilo."

Court May Hear Police Pay Case

JACKSONVILLE (UP)—A suit by the Arkansas Labor Department, seeking a half-month's pay for the Jacksonville police force will be heard April 4 in the city municipal court.

Labour department attorney H. L. Perryman filed a suit against the city, and members of the city council to obtain the pay for acting police chief Olson Kennedy and his two assistants.

Mayor Edward Schmitt fired Chief C. S. Garner and his two policemen on Feb. 18. Schmitt replaced them with Kennedy and two new patrolmen. But the city council refused to pay the new force in a dispute over who has authority to hire the police force.

Outbreak of German Measles

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—An outbreak of German measles in Jefferson county for the week ending last Saturday was revealed today by the State Board of Health.

The county had 125 new cases. Only one other case was reported in the state—in Craighead county. The upsurge brought the year's total to 595, compared with only 182 cases the same week a year ago.

The figure still was below the 182 reported the previous week, but well above the 52 the same week last year.

A total of 34 cases of measles was reported, well below the 261 the previous week, but slightly above the 61 the same week last year. The total for the year is 714 cases, compared with 558 at the same time in 1957.

No new cases of polio were reported during the week. There was one case last week and one the same week a year ago. The state has had only three cases so far this year, compared with six to the same time last year.

OCEAN TO OCEAN ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA—AND BACK—IN 41 HOURS!

CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world—the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires—no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began—across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 24 miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet—but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes—and the engine was never turned off!

3-Dimensional Television Is Perfected

BY VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Three dimensional television, a special process complete with glasses for home viewers, has been perfected for existing TV sets.

Viewers now may look forward to all manner of objects and performers being hurled smack into their living rooms—at least that's what will appear to happen.

"Dephograph" was demonstrated this week for network bigwigs who came away convinced that 3D-TV has arrived.

A two-minute film—consisting of panoramic views of a wintry countryside, a merry-go-round and a whirling vase of flowers—proved conclusively that a third dimension can be added to the nation's video sets.

Viewers See Depth
Unlike the 3-D movie process that blossomed briefly, "dephograph" does not utilize polarization to fuse a double image. Viewers wearing special glasses see the depth dimension. Those without glasses continue to receive a clear, two-dimensional picture. In TV parlance, the system is completely compatible.

"Dephograph" was developed by ex-actor William Free who predicts future TV shows will be strictly 3-D.

"At first kiddie shows and commercials will take advantage of my process," Free said. "Then, when there are 100 million pairs of glasses in the homes dramatic shows, Westerns and musicals will move into 3D."

Inexpensive Process
"The process is inexpensive to film," he added. "It also can be applied to live TV. We use a prismatic lens, which puts two images—one for each eye—on film. When the glasses are worn the depth dimension is immediately apparent."

"Can you imagine how one network would get the jump on the rest if it had exclusive rights to 'dephograph'? Our system could be a powerful influence on all the ratings."

Free said NBC-TV and Bing Crosby Enterprises both have expressed interest in his 3-D baby, and that "dephograph" should make its national debut with 60 days.
